2. I am happy to be here in the Haryana Plywood conclave and address such a distinguished audience. My salutations to this impressive gathering of leaders representing different stakeholder from Plywood Sector.
3. The State has been continuously working towards providing a conducive business environment for new and existing enterprises to flourish. The inherent spirit of the government is to ensure investor-happiness and facilitate progress and growth for all industries in the State!
4. The State is a leading industrial and corporate hub, with abundant land parcels, lucrative sectoral policies, flagship infrastructure projects and seamless investment facilitation processes through simplification of procedures.

5. I would like to recall that time when India had the highest share in the global economy and one of the major reasons was India's powerful trade and exports. We have had trade links and trade routes with almost every part of the world.
6. Today, even as we are trying to get back that old stake in the global economy, the role of our exports is very important.
7. One of the important goals in this direction is to be a part of Global Supply Chain. Therefore, today we must ensure that our industry produce as per International Demand, so that our businesses can scale up and grow.
8. The industry will also have to move towards the best technology, focus on innovation and increase its share in R&D.
9. I want to congratulate the Foreign Cooperation Department to organise the Haryana Plywood Conclave, and taking steps to boost the plywood exports from Haryana.
10. I believe that such unique platforms will provide a great opportunity to all stakeholders that work relentlessly to promote Yamuna Nagar as a the “Plywood Capital of the Country”.
11. I want to once again express my heartfelt gratitude to all the honorable dignitaries and all other participants present here today for joining us on this beautiful day.

Thank you, and I wish success to this event!
